You have the Right to:
- Receive language assistance, and bring your own interpreter if needed
- Vote by provisional ballot, if your name is missing from registration lists or you did not bring identification
- Remember: You are not required to show proof of citizenship to vote
- Photo ID may be required for voters in certain states, and for most first time voters

You have the Right to:
- Receive language assistance, and bring your own interpreter if needed
- Vote by provisional ballot, if your name is missing from registration lists or you did not bring identification
- Remember: You are not required to show proof of citizenship to vote
- Photo ID may be required for voters in certain states, and for most first time voters